

SDG 3
GOOD HEALTH AND WELL-BENG

UNP Strengthens Its Commitment to the Environment and Healththrough Tree Planting and an MoU with IOSKI

Universitas Negeri Padang (UNP) organized a tree-planting initiative and signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with the Indonesian Creative Gymnastics Association (IOSKI) of West Sumatra to reinforce its commitment to environmental sustainability and public health.The tree-planting activity promotes a greenercampus, supports long-termenvironmental conservation, and encourages a healthier and more sustainable future.

UNP Strengthens Commitment to the Environment and Health throughTree Planting and Collaboration with IOSKI

Universitas Negeri Padang (UNP) strengthened its commitment to environmental sustainability and public health through a tree-planting initiative and collaboration with the Indonesian CreativeGymnastics Association (IOSKI).The program aims to createa greener campus,promote environmental awareness, and encourage a healthier lifestyle among the university community.

KSR PMI UNP and Padang City Blood Donation Unit Successfully Collect 1,111 Bags of Blood

The Red Cross Volunteer Corps (KSR PMI) of Universitas Negeri Padang (UNP), in collaboration with the PadangCity Blood DonationUnit (UTD PMI), successfully collected 1,111 bags of bloodthrough a campus-wide blood donation campaign involving the university community and the public. The initiative aimed to raise awareness of the importance of blood donation while helping maintain an adequate blood supply for those in need.

NP and Bank Mestika BreakRecord with 1,750 Blood Bags Collected in Humanitarian Drive

Universitas NegeriPadang (UNP), in collaboration with Bank Mestika, the UNP Red Cross Volunteer Corps (KSR PMI),and the Padang City BloodDonation Unit (UDD PMI), successfully collected 1,750 bloodbags through the “Blood Donation, Life Donation” campaign. The initiative set a new record as the largest blood donationdrive in UNP’shistory while helping maintain an adequate blood supply and promoting humanitarian awareness within the community.

UNP's MEDSVO Successfully ConductsFirst Training Program Preparing Disaster-Ready Medical Volunteers

The Medical Disaster Volunteer (MEDSVO) Team of the Faculty of Medicine at Universitas Negeri Padang (UNP) successfully organized its first training program to prepare new members for emergency and disaster response. Through hands-on training in medicalevacuation, disaster management, first aid, and trauma care, the program equipped volunteers with the essential skills needed to providerapid and effective healthcare assistance during disasters.

UNP Psychology Service Unit Conducts Psychological Assessment for the 2025 West Sumatra PASKIBRA Selection

The Psychology Service Unit of Universitas Negeri Padang (UNP) was entrusted by the West Sumatra Provincial Government to conduct psychological assessments for 75 candidates in the 2025 Provincial PASKIBRA selection. The assessment evaluated participants' mental readiness, emotional intelligence, and psychological resilience to ensure the selection of well-qualified and capable flag-raising troop members.

UNP Facultyof Sports SciencesHosts West Sumatra Student Futsal Championship to Promote Youth Athletic Development

The Faculty of Sport Sciences at Universitas Negeri Padang (UNP)hosted the 2025 West SumatraStudent Futsal Championship, bringingtogether 24 school teams from across the province. The tournament aimed to nurtureyoung athletic talent, promote healthy lifestyles, and provide a competitive platform for studentsto develop their skills while encouraging future opportunities in sports education and achievement.